- 1) When the Saints Go Marching In, performed by Louis Armstrong – Classic New Orleans!
- 2) Come on Children, Let's Sing, performed by Mahalia Jackson – Mahalia Jackson is one of Ms. Marion and Tia's favorite singers and this song showcases the spirit of gospel music.
- 3) His Eye Is On the Sparrow, performed by Whitney Houston – Whitney Houston is another one of Tia's favorites; this is an example of a slower gospel song.
- 4) Banks of the Pontchartrain, performed by Nanci Griffith – Tia's mom listens to Nanci Griffith; Lake Ponchartrain is located nearby.
- 5) Amazing Grace, performed by The Mississippi Mass Choir – Here's an adult gospel choir showing us how it's done!
- 6) Deep River, performed by Mahalia Jackson – This is the song that Ms. Marion sings when she gives Tia her lesson.
- 7) There is Hope, performed by Mississippi Children's Choir – This is exactly the kind of song I imagine Tia's choir singing.
- 8) My Zydeco Shoes, performed by Zydeco All-Stars – Not only is zydeco a classic New Orleans sound, but it's also the type of music Keisha's folks would dance to at Le Bon Temps Roule.
- 9) Burn, performed by One Voice Children's Choir – Another example of what I imagine the Rainbow Choir singing; one of the leads reminds me so much of Tia! (Available on YouTube)
- 10) Heal the World, performed by CBS Children's Choir (of Seoul Korea) – Children's voices are so powerful! I love the fact that we can watch and listen to singers from all around the world. (Available on YouTube)
- 11) Note to God, performed by Charice – This is the song Tia imagines singing for the Raven woman.
- 12) Pyramid, performed Charice (featuring Iyaz) – This is Keisha and Tia's favorite song that they sing with Kenny at the end.
